

“Celebrate Your Party at Wuyang Casa”, A Top Choice for Local Families

[Image Left] Cannella, Allcot, and Harrison — three families chose Wuyang Casa. Celebrating with a birthday party, Jeff Cannella (right) celebrated his 59th birthday and graduation of his daughters. His wife (center) smiled and said, “I used to dislike buffets, but this time, after trying it together as a family, I’ve changed my mind. It actually feels very heartwarming.” [Image Right] The Schnall family of four Leah (left) came to New York for a short-term assignment and brought the whole family along. Her daughter (right) smiled and said, “We discovered this place on TikTok, and since we visited once, we’ve come back every week.” [Image Far Right] Jennie Sparacino. Her twin daughters helped plan her 34th birthday party (center). “They asked me not to host it anywhere else but Wuyang Casa. How could I say no?” Jennie laughed. “I actually don’t like cooking. This is perfect for me — delicious and hassle-free.”

Offering Popular Dishes from Chinese, Japanese, and Korean Cuisines.

Long Island was originally a popular weekend getaway or summer retreat for Manhattan residents. In recent years, as commuting time has shortened to around one hour, more and more families have chosen to settle here. What this area truly needs is a restaurant where the whole family can relax and enjoy themselves.

“There are few apartment buildings here; most are single-family homes. I wanted to create a place where white families could enjoy food that feels familiar—just like in Manhattan—while still having a great time,” explained store manager Jun. “We selected the most popular dishes from Chinese, Japanese, and Korean cuisines, tailoring the flavors to suit local tastes. Of course, beef dishes are soul food for many Americans, so we made Japanese-style BBQ our signature. At the same time, we offer a variety of vegetable options so that vegetarian families can enjoy the experience too.”

Chinese Cuisine: Pineapple Fried Rice, Zhajiang Noodles, Kung Pao Chicken, Stir-fried Seasonal Vegetables

Japanese Cuisine: Rice Balls, Miso Soup, Chicken Skewers, Stir-fried Udon, Tuna Donburi

Korean Cuisine: Cold Noodles (Naengmyeon), Stone Pot Bibimbap, Sizzling Beef on Iron Plate, Seafood Hot Pot, Pork Rib Soup

With the launch of multiple express lines at Grand Central and Penn Station, commuting from Long Island has become more convenient, attracting an increasing number of families to settle in the area.

[Image 1] Store Manager Ming Jun (32 years old) Previously worked in investment firms managing stock portfolios. Two years ago, he made the decision to “turn his passion for food into a career” and began overseeing the overall operations of the restaurant. [Image 2] Exterior of Wuyang Casa [Image 3] A variety of appetizers and sauces showcasing the flavors of three nations: Top row: Chinese-style pork aspic, Korean pickled radish, Japanese pickled cucumber. Middle row (sauces): Chinese spicy mayo, Korean miso sauce, Japanese teriyaki sauce. Bottom row (snacks): Spicy yakitori on the left, pan-fried dumplings on the right. [Image 4] Fifteen types of meat and vegetables presented in a tiered, aesthetically pleasing arrangement — a feast for the eyes. The Song family smiled and said, “My wife and daughter recently helped repaint our exterior walls, so I decided to treat them to BBQ as a thank-you. Skipping the painter saved us enough to pay for this meal!” The wife laughed and added, “We were really hungry after painting. Coming here to enjoy some good meat and recharge our energy was the perfect plan!”

